Universal Core (UCORE) is a federal information sharing initiative that supports the National Information Sharing Strategy and all associated Departmental/Agency strategies. UCORE enables information sharing by defining an implementable specification (XML Schema) containing agreed upon representations for the most commonly shared and universally understood concepts of who, what, when, and where. UCORE is designed to be simple to understand, explain, and implement. It is small, containing a minimal set of objects with broad applicability across a wide range of domains. UCORE leverages existing commercial and governmental standards (i.e, DDMS, GML, and IC ISM). UCORE is designed to be extensible and through the framework supports the concept of levels of understanding to provide data to both the anticipated and unanticipated user.
This four-hour session will provide attendees with an understanding of how UCore can be applied to address information sharing requirements and implemented to comply with the recently released DoD Memorandum, “Universal Core (UCore) Guidance in Support of Enhanced Information Sharing.” A series of presentations from UCore implementation teams across various organizations will also be presented during this track to share their experiences implementing UCore and the value it provides in the context of their mission.

Speakers: Mr. Dan Green (SPAWAR HQ), Ms. Tiffany Liu (SPAWAR Systems Center Pacific), Mr. Jeremy Winer (SPAWAR HQ Support), Mr. Bill Stewart (Jeskel), Mr. Roger Wuerfel (DHS Support), Mr. Fred Petry (Naval Research Laboratory), Mr. Brian Bourgeois (Naval Research Laboratory), Mr. Dave O’Neill (Joint Forces Command), National Information Exchange Model Representative
